THE ECHO

ASTRAL ASPECTS

DYER HIGH

presented by the Senior Class of 1953
DYER, INDIANA

Dedication

We proudly dedicate this 1953 edition of THE ECHO to our classmate, Lester Schiesser, who lost his life in the summer of 1952. We honor him for his friendliness, his generosity, and his skill in sports. We have missed him in classes and athletics, and we shall long remember the sparkle and fun that were so characteristic a part of him.

Our Sponsor

We honor our sponsor, Miss Beulah Husted, for the skillful guidance she has given our class during the past two years. Her patience, loyalty, and understanding have contributed a great deal to the successful completion of our high school days.

Administration

With Dr. Ahrens, as chief pilot, and our teachers as crew, our space ship, Dyer High is guided through the darkness of ignorance into the light of knowledge and understanding. During our trip, there is a light as bright as the sun—the understanding and patience of our instructors, without which we would be lost. They set up the objectives, chart the course, and direct our activities. We honor them for their wisdom, sagacity, and integrity.

Seniors

Just as the student pilot makes his first flight into space, so the seniors make their solo flight into the world of business and industry, of war and of peace. But they are prepared for this trip. Selling hot buttery popcorn to starving students has been an important source of senior income. All senior girls contributed time to this project, but the camera caught only Janice Thompson, Betty Bowers, Lois Hogan and Betty Wood. Mrs. Hoffman is justly proud of the professional looking dresses and suits made by her sewing seniors. In the picture at the right, Jean Perry is pressing a finished garment, Janice Thompson is making button holes, and Kay Nelson boldly cuts out a spring dress, while Mrs. Hoffman supervises with a discerning eye.

Undergraduates

The airfield is being readied, the rockets and space ships are being prepared, and the student spacemen are rapidly ending their training period. The last 1953 flight to the world of Self Support will soon depart, and the instructors have already begun making preparations for the 1954 journey. The undergraduates are acquiring the wisdom and understanding they will need to be tomorrow's leaders—to be the passengers and crew for Dyer's future space explorations.

ROBERT MERCER

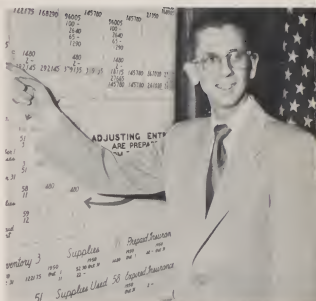

The freshmen in General Business class realize the importance of accuracy in figures, as explained by their instructor, Mr. Bright.

Influenced by the current popularity of square dancing, the freshmen pictured at the left demonstrate a step in one of the dances learned this year. The dancers are: Neill Keller, Carol Gettler, Mickey Rose, Robert Foster, Marcia Ahrens, Elaine Friedrichson, Ronald Dresel, and Alfred Bowles.

In a Lighter Vein

Sports

With the night sky forming a black velvet backdrop, the silvery stars shine as far as the eye can see, and thence into unimaginable infinity. Some have shone for an eternity—others are comparatively new. Some will grow into brilliant specters in the heavens; others may never be seen by the naked eye, but even though unknown to man, they will be there. So, too, is the way with athletes. Some are brilliant, seen and revered by all; others are unheard of, drawing little or no attention, but unmistakably there. Some stars, like the old athlete who has "seen his day", have at one time been dazzling spots in the sky, but have since burned themselves out and have faded into oblivion. New stars are yet to be discovered. New athletes are still to come. But all must eventually yield to the irresistible flow of time.

ATHLETES.

"Van"

In his three years as football coach at Dyer High School, Cornelius Vanderkoik, or "Coach Van" as he is known to everyone, has achieved an enviable record of 17 victories, 9 defeats, and 3 ties. A marine veteran of World War II, Van was an all-time football great at St. Joseph College in 1940-41. After the war, he received his master's degree at Purdue University. Before coming to Dyer in 1950 he served a brief stretch with the Chicago Rockets professional football team, following which he was athletic director at Marrison Military Academy in Aurora. Van is exceptionally popular with the students and the townspeople, and it is hoped that he will long be a member of the high school staff.

Grid Indians Break Even

On September 13, Coach Vanderkolk's Indian gridders launched their 1953 campaign on an unhappy note by losing to Portage 13-0, in a game which dedicated the latter's new field. The game was bitterly contested, but the Indians were unable to put together a sustained drive and were blanked. The Indians broke into the win column a week later when they whitewashed Gary Wirt by a 12-0 count. The following week the Panthers of Griffith fell before Dyer in a 6-0 ball game. The Griffith fans like to think of this game as an upset, but to broadminded fans who saw it, it was clearly a case of the better team winning. The next week the Indians suffered a natural letdown and a stinging 24-12 setback. A week later the Indians ran into a rugged North Judson crew and absorbed a 25-6 licking. The following Friday, October 10, was homecoming, and Dyer met Gary Edison, the eventual co-champs of the Calumet conference. The Indian line played its best game of the season and limited the powerful Edison offense to a lone score, but Dyer was unable to score and lost 6-0. On Saturday afternoon of the next week, Dyer journeyed to Crete, Ill., and lost a hardfought 13-0 game to Crete-Monee, Kankakee Valley Conference champs.

With two wins and five losses, it looked as though Dyer would have its first losing season in the school's history. But when the Indians took the field against Lowell they used the new Vanderkolk spread to down the Red Devils 14-7. Oak Lawn proved no match for the rejuvenated Indians the next week and was routed 41-14. The Pirates of Merrillville supplied the Indians with some tough opposition in the final game of the season, but came out on the short end of a 19-13 score.

Post season honors were awarded to Bill Penman, rugged 200 pound tackle, when he was voted to the all conference team. Bill also received honorable mention for all-state. Ernie Jostes was voted honorary captain by his teammates, and Penman was voted most valuable player.

In looking back over the season, a great deal of credit belongs to Coach Van as well as all of the boys. Despite injuries to Rich James (broken ankle), George Kline (broken wrist), Glenn Ashcraft (ankle separation), Norb Marcinek (injured foot), and Ray Jaryszak (broken arm), the team broke even in ten games and finished fourth in the conference standings.

The 1952-53 Dyer Indians, called by many the best Dyer team in ten years, finished the season with a 12-8 record. Plagued in early season by injuries, the squad lost a hotly disputed 50-48 game at Griffith and a 57-55 heartbreaker at East Gary. Carrying a 2-3 record into the Crown Point holiday meet, the Indians avenged their loss to Griffith by a 48-40 count, but lost in the final two seconds to Hobart 54-53, after leading all the way. A week later they swept the Calumet Holiday Tourney by crushing Gary Wirt, 54-43, and downing Calumet Township. After the new year the Indians dropped three consecutive games to Merrillville, Crown Point, and Gary Edison. They then went on to win seven of their last eight, losing only a thriller to Hobart.

It was the last year for all nine boys for high school basketball because eight seniors graduate, and the lone junior has used up his eligibility. Five of the boys, Kilander, Penman, James Bowles, and Young have played together since the sixth grade. The others, Keilman, Kline, Frauenholtz, and Plimpton, transferred from other schools. Everyone, especially the players, appreciates the fine coaching job turned in by Jim Jacobs, the popular basketball coach at Dyer.

COACH, JIM JACOBS

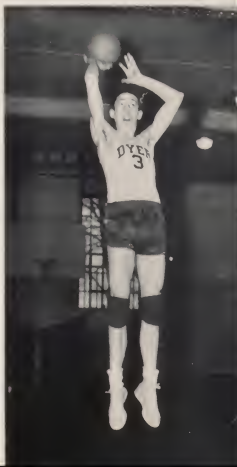

Coach Jim Jacobs has been head basketball and baseball coach at Dyer since the fall of 1948. Although his basketball teams have been hampered by Dyer's cracker-box gym, thus meeting only mild success, his baseball teams have posted an amazing 39-7 mark, and can boast of three consecutive championships and a second place finish. Jim is a graduate of Gary Emerson high school, where he was one of the greatest athletes ever to come out of Gary. He attended Michigan State College and played baseball before serving three years in the U.S. artillery from 1943-45. He returned home and attended Valparaiso U. Jim played a season of pro basketball and then turned to coaching here at Dyer. He is popular with all the students and faculty members, and everyone hopes he will be here for many more years.

—All-Conference—

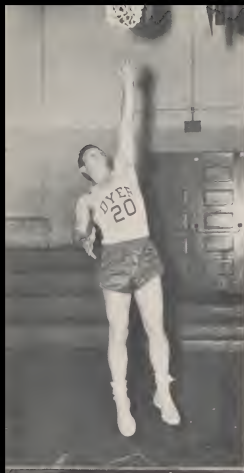

In his senior year, George Kline proved a record breaker. He shattered all school scoring records, most of which had been held by Ray Burke of the class of '51. The 6'4" Kline hit for a season's total of 420 points in 21 games for an average of 20 points per game. His peak performance of the season came on January 9, against Merrillville, when he hit for 35 points, breaking Burke's gym record of 32. George received post season honors when he was voted to the All-Calumet Confer-

"EB"

Coach Glen Eberly, though not yet out of Teachers' College, is as well liked around Dyer High as anyone. He came to Dyer primarily as a teacher, but realizing the need of a "B" team coach to help coach Jacobs, he volunteered. With a regular coach to help and instruct them, the "B" team started winning games regularly. They finished the season by winning seven out of the last nine games, and owe a debt of gratitude to coach Eberly. We sincerely hope when Glen receives his degree, he will return to Dyer for the duration of his teaching career.

As the 1953 Echo goes to press, the outlook for the approaching baseball season is very good. In four years, Jim Jacob's teams have posted an amazing 39-7 record against the best competition in the Calumet region. During this span, Dyer has captured the Calumet Conference flag three times and finished in a tie for second the fourth year. Twelve lettermen and some promising newcomers make up the squad which Coach Jacobs hopes will bring Dyer the 1953 championship.

Indians Take Calumet Trophy

The Dyer Indians won their first basketball trophy under Coach Jim Jacobs. They defeated the troopers of Gary Wirt in the afternoon game by a 58-46 score and advanced to the night finals. In the evening they won a hard fought battle from Calumet Township, the hosts of the tourney, the final score being 53-43. The Indians played well throughout the tourney and richly deserved their trophy.

Extra curricular activities help to make our astral adventurers prove the old adage, "All diligence and no dalliance makes Jason an apathetic adolescent."

Elaine Friedricksen Chosen Queen At Annual Homecoming Dance

The annual Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, was held October 10, 1952. The music was supplied by the Melodians. Before the dance each class chose its candidate for homecoming queen. At the dance the freshman candidate, Elaine Friedricksen was chosen. She was crowned queen by her escort, Eddie Hoernig.
